

Tribhuvan University

Subservience of Non-Magical Blood in Joanne Rowling's Harry Potter
and the Deathly Hallows

A Thesis Submitted to the Central Department of English in Partial Fulfillment of the Requirements for the Degree of Master of Arts in English

By

Salma Limbu

Kirtipur, Kathmandu

September, 2012

Tribhuvan University

Faculty of Humanities and Social sciences

Approval Letter

This thesis entitled “Subservience of Non-Magical Blood in Joanne Rowling’s Harry Potter and Deathly Hallows” submitted to the Central Department of English, Tribhuvan University by Salma Limbu has been approved by the undersigned members of the research committee.

Members of Research Committee:

Internal Examiner

External Examiner

Head of Department

Central Department of English

T.U, Kirtipur

Date: _____

Acknowledgements

First and foremost, my sincerest thanks go out to my thesis supervisor Mr. Bal Bahadur Thapa, for his incessant kind help and guidance to accomplish this dissertation. Without his valuable input and suggestions, I would have probably been still trackless and bewildered by the over stress of writing a good thesis.

I am also very thankful to Dr. Ammaraj Joshi, Head of the Central Department of English, for his easygoingness and encouragements.

I am equally grateful to my family and friends who have always led me in the right direction and have stood by me.

September 2012

Salma Limbu

Abstract

This research has focused on the racial prejudice faced by the non-magical race from the magical group. The research examines the racial relation between the magically powerful wizard Lord Voldemort, Death Eaters, pure-blood wizards and the non-magical group. The magical race with pure-blood wizards and witches try to wipe out the non-magical humans only in the pretext of magically powerless race. The racial war is for the extermination of non-magical blood that is subservient to magically powerful wizards and witches. Descendants of magical and non-magical blood are also impure race and subject to extermination, to make the magical race with only pure-blood wizards and witches. The extermination and domination of them by Death Eaters and pure-blood wizards under the leadership of Lord Voldemort has been traced scenario in this research. This research explores how the social definition set up by wizard-kind effect the non-magical blood and their life. Thus, the research reveals the racial relation, exclusion of the other and disempowerment of the non-magical blood in the text.

Contents

Page No.

Acknowledgements

Abstract

- | | | |
|------|--|-------|
| I. | Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows: A Critical Discussion | 1-24 |
| II. | Racism in Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows: Subservience of Non-Magical Blood | 25-45 |
| III. | Conclusion | 46-47 |

Works Cited