ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In modern world Capital Market plays a vital role for the economic development of country by pooling the scattered capital to channelize in the productive sector. Merchant banks are part of capital market and considered as the best intermediaries between fund demander and supplier.

This study is conducted for the partial fulfillment of the requirement of degree of Master of Business Studies (MBS) of Tribhuvan University. I have made an attempt to explore Merchant Banking Practice in Nepal. I hope this research work will bring new thought and changes in the field of merchant banking.

I wish to express my hearty gratitude to my thesis supervisor Dr. Geeta Pradhan, Associate Professor, Shanker Dev Campus and Mr. Rishi Raj Gautam, Lecturer Shanker Dev Campus for their valuable guidance and suggestion with that continuous guidance helped me to bring this thesis in this form.

I would be very thankful to Mr. Kabindra Shrestha, of NIDC Capital Markets Ltd. Mr. Anil Dhakal of Citizen Investment Trust. Mr. Nilam Sharma of Nepal Share Market and Finance Ltd. and Issue Management officer of NMB Bank Ltd., for their co-operation and providing the required data relating to the merchant banks.

Similarly, I am also thankful to all the library staff of Shanker Dev Campus, Tribhuvan University Securities Exchange Board of Nepal, and Indian Library for providing me there. Precious time while taking necessary information. I would also thank to my family members and to all my friends and colleagues for making this research meaningful.
