Acknowledgement

Firstly, I would like to express my best and regards gratitude to Lecturer Santosh Parajuli for his valuable guidance and kind supervision. Without his inspiration, guidance cooperation I could not have imagined success in my pursuit in spite of his tight schedule. Mr. Parajuli had been available to me whenever I needed his comments consultation.

I am grateful to Mr. Wanchu Gomden for providing me inspiration and necessary comments on my dissertation. I have profited greatly from the suggestion and criticism made by him as an external supervisor for my thesis.

Similarly, I am very much thankful to all the households of Pashupatinagar VDC. For providing me suitable environment every time and coordinating me through my research study period. Without their support, this study would not have been possible.
