ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This thesis has been prepared for the partial fulfillment of Master's Degree in Management of Tribhuvan University. I have had a rewarding experience while undertaking this research which wouldn't have been completed without the careful guidance and encouragement that I have received from my teachers. I owe my sincere debt to all of them.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my thesis supervisor Mr. Shanker Raj Joshi and Mr. Dr. Kamal Deep Dhakal for his invaluable and untiring guidance, encouragement and constructive suggestions from the very beginning to the end of the writing of this thesis. I am highly grateful and indebted to Nepal Bank Ltd. for providing me with the essential materials needed to accomplish this research.

I would like to express my deep respects to all my teachers of Management Accountant Department who helped me in one or other way in accomplishing this research. Thanks go to all the teachers and friends for their kind hospitality assistance and help.

I would like to express my deepest gratitude to my parents who always encourage me to continue my higher study and my Spouse Lila Devi Kadariya who created a favourable environment for the completion of this study.

I owe very much to my friends and well wishers who helped me directly or indirectly to complete this thesis. Finally, I am grateful to Mrs. Gita Khatriwada & Mr. Rajan Prasad Khatriwada (Softtech Computer System, Chabahil, Kathmandu) for typing this thesis.
