ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This dissertation on 'Social condition of Educated Working Women of Kathmandu district' has been prepared as a partial fulfilment of the requirement for the Degree of Masters of Arts in Sociology.

This study would not have been materialized without continue support and cooperation from a number of individuals. I take this opportunity to thank them all.

I wish to express my sincere appreciation and heartfelt gratitude to my supervisor Ms. Milly Joshi, for her invaluable remarks, suggestions and support that made this thesis possible.

I would like to thank whole heartedly to all my respondents for providing their valuable time and information and making this thesis valuable. Without their cooperation this thesis would not have been completed.

I am greatly obliged to my friend Purnima Thapa for her help and support in many ways in the successful completion of this thesis. I am equally indebted to my friends Jenice Shakya, Sangita Khatri, Bikash Ghale and Laxmi Maharjan for their invaluable help in data collection.

Lastly, my deepest sense of gratitude goes out to my family and colleagues whose affection, encouragement and support helped me reach this stage.
