ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

While preparing this thesis entitled Analysis of foreign direct investment in Nepal, I was lucky to draw upon the advice and generous help of a number of individuals and organization. Without whose co-operation and support this thesis would not have been complete nor would not have taken shape in this present form and substance.

First of all, I would like to express my infinite and sincere gratitude to my thesis supervisor and my respected teacher, khagendra katuwal, associate lecturer of central department of economics for his valuable suggestions in depth guidance, co-operation and continuous supervision without which this study would never have completed. I am highly indebted to him. Similarly I wish to express my gratitude to Prof. Dr. Ram Prasad Gyanwaly, Head of Central Department of Economics and all the teacher of central Department of economics for their gracious response to my queries.

I am very grateful to the staff of TU central library, staff of the library of CEDECON, staff of Nepal Rastra Bank and national planning commission, employees of Department of Industry and Employees of Central Bureau of Statistics for providing necessary data and information.

I would like to express my sincere appreciation to Krishna Prasad Sharma and Suresh Dhakal who generously provided the necessary suggestions , supports and information without whose cooperation; this study would not have been possible.

I am indebted to my all family members, especially, my brother Keshab Prasad Bhusal and sisters Prabha Bhusal and Radha Pathak providing me inspiration and financial assistance with much patience to accomplish my academic course.

Last, but not least. my equal thanks go to my all friends especially , Niru dahal , for their valuable suggestion and kind cooperation in the process of thesis writing .similarly , I would like to express special thanks to N.C publication Pvt Ltdfor helping in computer setting and printing with utmost care.
