ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The completion of this research study is a output of valuable support from many personalities. First of all, I am grateful to Mr Tek Nath Subedi, faculty member of Central Department of Sociology, Kirtipur, for the patient guidance, constant encouragement and valuable supervision at every step of the research study.

I am indebted to all the professors and lecturers of Central Department of Sociology who helped me directly or indirectly to bring out this thesis work. Moreover, I would like to express bunch of thanks to students of class 11 and 12 and the schools administration of Bharatpur, Chitwan who provided me valuable information, data and support for the study.

Similarly, I express my sincere gratitude to all the staff of Centre Library, Kirtipur, reputed authors, publishers and online media whose writing have provided me the necessary guidance and invaluable materials.

Needless to say, “error is human” and I can not be the exception, so I apologize for and errors and mistakes committed. I hope the possible errors would be covered by subsequent studies in the days to come.

Last but not least, I extend my heart-felt thanks to my wife Moti Kumari Kandel, helpful friend Chiran Poudel and all colleagues for their continuous and crucial support.
