ABSTRACT

This study entitled Impact of Remittance on Socio-Economic Condition of Migrants of Suryabinayak-5, Bhaktapur was conducted with the objectives of analyze the impact of remittance in rural households; access the contribution of remittance in socio-economic development of rural area.

The general objective of this study was to examine relationship between the socio-economic condition of the rural households before and after the remittances. However, the specific were to analyze the socio-economic conditions of rural households after remittance in the study area; to explore the trend of foreign employment in the study area and to examine the role of remittance in socio-economic development.

The data was collected from the respondent of the Suryabinayak. This is analytical as well as descriptive type of research Design. The available data from the various sources where collected, classified and tabulated to meet the needs of the study. Data processing is done with the help of a mathematical tools and technique. Hence, various methods of analysis such as graphical presentation, tabulation were made for the purpose of analysis. Data were studied comparatively to get required results about the socio-economic impact.

Most of the households from the study area were receiving remittance. Foreign employment was main occupation of the study area. From the study area we can conclude that all the households who were receiving remittance are getting benefit. There access to education, health and socio-economic condition has increased. Likewise it also helps in net saving. The remittance is not using properly in productive sector if the households properly invest in productive sector it will help to develop rapidly in rural area. All households were positive towards remittance income. The living standard of people in study area is gradually changing .people are now getting the proper social and economical status is also gradually increasing. The income of the family has been raised up ultimately uplifting the living standard of the people under the poverty line. Some recommendation from our side like the income coming from remittance should be utilized in productive sector like business, Agriculture etc.

Major reasons to seek foreign employment include unemployment, family debt burden, conflict problems and to earn money than which they are earning in their own country. The means to get foreign employment of the most of the sample (85 percent) respondents were Manpower Agencies. Other went either through unregistered agents or personal initiative. Majority of the foreign job seekers (83 percent) didn't have any skill and took unskilled labor jobs in industries. sAround 81.73 percent respondents said that remittance have increased their economic status, 54.8 percent of respondents said that remittance income have increased their standard of living, around 59 percent of the respondents social attitude have increased with the remittance income.

As a summary, we can say that the remittance income earned from foreign employment is helping the household of the study area in fulfilling their basic needs as well as fulfillment of other social economic aspect of their life. In another aspect of this survey we can say that the remittance earned by the foreign labor have benefited other members of his family than the employed himself. Therefore it is clear that the remittance is playing very positive role to the respondents and their family to reduce their level of poverty of the study area and help to Sociology.
