ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First of all, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my respected teacher as well as supervisor, Mr. Bhesh Raj Pokhrel, Lecturer of Department of English Education, TU for his scholarly guidance, continuous assistance, inspiration, encouragement and constructive suggestions which help to make the research in this form. Therefore, I felt very lucky and very much proud to have worked under his guidance and supervision.

Similarly, I would like to express deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Anjana Bhattarai, Reader and the Head, Department of English Education, T.U. and Mr. Khem Raj Joshi Assistant teacher of Department of English Education for their inspiring ideas and providing me with an opportunity to conduct this study.

I am very grateful to Dr. Chandeshwor Mishra, Professor, Department of English Education, Chairperson English and Other Foreign Languages, Education Subject Committee for his genuine suggestions.

In the same way, my sincere gratitude goes to all teachers of the Department of English Education for their direct and indirect suggestions and advice to accomplish this work. I would like to extend deep respect to Ms. Madhavi Khanal, Librarian for her continuous help in issuing the required books that I needed for the research. In the same way, I would like to thank Mr. Bhim Regmi, Mr. Bhupal Khada Mr. Yam Nath Khanal and Mr. Bhagirath Paudyal for their inspiration and guidance. My sincere respect goes to my inspiring and encouraging parents who are responsible to bring me in the present situation. Similarly, my special thanks go to my lovely sister and brother for creating a cooperative and favorable home environment during my study.

Finally, I am equally thankful to all the secondary level English teachers of the selected schools from Jhapa district for providing me with their valuable information to complete this research work.

ABSTRACT

The present research study entitled "Classroom Dynamics in Case of Novice Teachers" aimed to find out the classroom dynamics of novice teachers at secondary level. This study was carried out using sboth primary and secondary sources of data. The sample was 20 novice English teachers from different twenty secondary schools of Jhapa district. The teachers were selected by using purposive non random sampling procedure. The data were collected through observation checklist. For this, I observed 4 classes of each twenty teachers teaching in different secondary schools in Jhapa district. Observation checklist was used to find out the novice teachers' classroom dynamics. From this study, it was found that majority of the novice teachers' classes were found poor. However, some teachers were found good in some aspects. It was concluded that novice teachers' classroom dynamics was not found satisfactory.

The study consists of five chapters. Chapter one deals with the introduction. It consists of background of the study, statement of the problem, rationale of the study, objectives of the study, research questions, and significance of the study and operational definition of the key terms. Similarly, chapter two concerns with the review of related literature, implication of the review for the study and theoretical as well as conceptual framework. Moreover, chapter three introduces the methods and procedures of the study. It includes design of the study, population and sample, sampling procedure, data collection tools and data collection procedures. In the same way, chapter four consists of results and discussions of the data which has been done under the heading viz. results and discussion. Finally, chapter five incorporates summary, conclusion and discussion. Some significance findings and implications for the policy level, practice level and further research have been made. This chapter is followed by reference and appendices.
