ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is my responsibility and my honor to properly thank dozens of people who have made my study successful since last several years. While I will undoubtedly omit a few, this allows me a chance to acknowledge collectively the people who have been my life of the last few years. My respected sister husband Mr Subash Acharya (Assistant Director of NRB head office, Micro Finance Department) directed this work and guided to explore the ideas and of course provided a relevant data's and NRB 's publication to present in an appropriate manner. Without an incredible support, this work would have been incomplete.

Most people are lucky to find one advisor, but I have been incredibly fortunate in having Dr. Bihari Binod Pokharel, Head of Research Department, Nepal Commerce Campus, extraordinary kindness, constant support, generosity, intellectual and emotional guidance ensured that what could have been a difficult time turned out to be a happy and productive one. Staffs of Nepal Rastra Bank, Head office were also critical in making this thesis report well. They warmly and openly welcomed my many instructions into their time. Many other scholars of Nepal Rastra Bank have been kind and generous with their time and energies. My passed out friends of Tribhuvan University Mr. Parwat Pokhrel, Sailesh Shrestha have provided a rich and productive environment in which to think about how to make this research more meaningful. I would like to express my sincere gratitude to the library members of Nepal Commerce Campus and Central library T.U. In no particular order: Nodan Chettri, Hari Kafle, Utsav Pokhrel shared many great experiences with me.

Mr. Ramesh, computer typing, managing layouts, formatting and Mr, Arjun Karki for printing receives sincere thanks for their efforts. Finally, I want to thank with all my heart, the two people who were most important to my life here. In their honor, I would like to dedicate this thesis to them both with great love and respect, this thesis report is for Umesh Pokhrel without whom nothing much would be worth doing and my parents without whom nothing could have been done.
