Acknowledgement

For me, working on this thesis has been a rewarding opportunity to learn. This experience has been tremendously rewarding especially about learning to carrying out a research based on the academically-significant hypothesis, compiling the relevant data, and documenting the analysis. Having worked hard to bring the research work to the logical conclusion, I am immensely delighted with a sense of fulfillment.

From the very beginning, I was motivated to carry out the research with originality and in an innovative manner. I believe I have been largely successful in meeting the goals. I sincerely hope that this thesis work would make a small but important contribution to the academic discourse in business studies and the practice of conducting academic research.

I am pretty sure I would not have been able to realize the challenging goals of the thesis without the generous support of my thesis supervisor Mr. Madav Sapkota who helped me to refine my writing and to widen my knowledge and understanding with his valuable insights. I am especially thankful to my supervisor for his time, patience, advice and constant encouragement which have helped to maintain the quality and originality of this thesis.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to Associate Professor Ms. Neera Shrestha, Coordinator of MBS Program, for her support and encouragement. Her insightful suggestions have helped me to revise and reconstruct my thesis from a critical and better-informed academic standpoint.

Special thanks are also due to the faculty members of MBS program at Padma Kanya Campus for their resourceful instructions which have both directly and indirectly informed this thesis.

I would also like to remember and offer my thanks to the staff at Bottlers Nepal Ltd. and Unilever Nepal Ltd. for their kindness and support in providing me the valuable data.

I am greatly indebted to my husband Pradeep, who patiently supported me during my study hours, brother Sanjeeb, who generously supported me with advice and resources. I cannot forget what a great friend Shantamani has been in the whole process of materializing this thesis.

I am much obliged to my parents Dilliram Pudasaini and Indira Pudasaini for their guidance and inspiration. Their sustained trust on me has been a great source of motivation in my academic career and in making this thesis work a success.
