ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First of all, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my supervisor, Lecturer Mrs. Madhu Neupane who helped me to complete this thesis. Without her constant supervision, insightful comments and suggestions my thesis would not have come to this form.

I would like to record my indebtedness to the professor and the head of Department of English Education Dr. Chandreshwar Mishara who encouraged me in the course of my thesis writing. I also would like to express my sincere gratitude to Dr. Anjana Bhattarai, Dr. Tara Datta Bhatta and Dr. Bal Mukunda Bhandari for their valuable comments and encouragement. Similarly, I also offer my heartfelt thanks to Mrs. Madhavi madam of English Education Department for her supports. I am also want to express my gratefulness to all my teachers of the Department of English Education.

Likewise, I am deeply indebt to my parents, who encouraged me all the time to complete this work. And I am also grateful to my husband, an educationist, poet and novelist Mr. D.B. Gurung, who supported and encouraged me to shape up my thesis. Through his constant supports, intellectual advice and insightful comments I have brought this work to fruition.

Similarly, I am also grateful towards my two brothers and the family members for their supports. Last but not least, I cannot ignore to express my sincere gratitude to Mr. Ravi Khadka of KTV, Chief of English news and International Desk for his valuable supports for this research. Especial thanks to Friend's Computer Kirtipur for shaping up my thesis into this correct format.

ABSTRACT

The present study entitled “Language Used in News-bulletins of Kantipur Television” attempts to find out English words and sentences in news-bulletins of Kantipur television (KTV). This research was totally based on secondary sources of data and the sample of the study was judgmentally collected for the English news-bulletins of KTV. The fifteen regular bulletins were collected from 1st – 15th May of 2010, altogether 150 selected sentences were analyzed. After the serious study during the course of this research, it has been found that complex sentences were highly used than simple and compound sentences. In terms of phrases: they were in super-abundance; however, it has focused only on ‘phrasal verbs.’ While tackling with the types of phrasal verbs, non-separable transitive (inseparable) have been found frequently used rather than other types of phrasal verbs.

This research study has been divided into four chapters: The first chapter of the study deals with general background, history and the development of mass media, media language, importance and roles of mass media, review of the related literature, objectives, and significance of the study. Chapter two deals with methodology, sources of data, sampling procedure, tools of data collection, process of the collected data, and the limitation of the study. Chapter three consists of analysis and the interpretation of data collection. And chapter four presents the findings and recommendations based on the analysis and the interpretation of the study.
