ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I began my thesis first under Mr. Mukta Lama. Mukta sir gave me new perspectives to look at my own concept and provided me with articles so helpful for my work. Because of his busyness, we had to discontinue but I would like to thank him for his help, guidance and cooperation. Nabin Rawal was always there to guide, as a teacher and a well-wisher. I owe my gratitude to him for guiding and helping me in this entire process. My family, for their positive vibes, love and support. Children and other informants from three libraries, Nepal-Japan Children Library, Awon Library-Children Section and National Library-Children Section and two schools, Nava Adarsa and Zenith English Secondary School also deserve my gratefulness. I cannot forget children I selected randomly from various other schools around my neighborhood, mentioning their names would not be possible but their cooperation has helped me a lot so I thank them all. Similarly, teachers from above mentioned schools and library key resource persons are also worthy of my appreciation for their permission and ideas. I am very thankful to all the teachers, specially, Chaitanya Mishra, from my Department who inspired me in many ways. I am grateful to Ramita Maharjan and Ramesh Niraula from Martin Chautari Media Documentation Center who provided me with books I demanded for. My thanks is also due to Pratyoush Onta who gave me suggestions regarding library resource persons and from whom I've learned a lot. And my deepest thanks to all the friends and colleagues who read this and lend me their hands with insightful comments.
