Acknowledgements

The present research would not have been completed in the present form unless scholarly guidance, regular suggestions and valuable criticism were given by my supervisor, Mr. Bijay Kumar Rauniyar Lecturer, Central Department of English.

Similarly, I am indebted to Dr. Krishna Chandra Sharma, Head of Central Department of English, who allowed me to work on this thesis. I am equally indebted to other faculty members of department who provided me valuable suggestions and instructions throughout my thesis writing.

Furthermore, I would like to remember parents Mr. Shiva Prasad Aryal and Mrs. Guna Devi Aryal, who are the pathfinders to my higher study. And I would like to express humble gratitude to my relatives, friends and well wishers for their constant inspiration and encouragement.

Finally, my warm thanks go to Mrs. Kamla Shrestha of Academic Computer Link, Kirtipur, whose efficient typing make this thesis in the present form.

Abstracts

The present research foregrounds the study of existential struggle of the characters in the economically depressed era of the 1930s. This research exposes Harry Morgan's heroism and stoicism in the then collapsing world. The fragmented, disharmonious and alien world caters frustration, anxiety and loneliness to people. To fight against those evil forces, Harry Morgan chooses to go against the authority of the society. He struggled against those who have the abounding amount of wealth without labour. Like Harry Morgan, Richard Gordon's mission was to establish socialism by awakening the common people. This research shows the struggle, patience, tolerance and effort of an individual in a fragmented society.
