ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It gives me immense pleasure and a great sense of gratification for having this prestigious opportunity to present this thesis study entitled "Evaluation of Cash Flow Management of Bank of Kathmandu and Everest Bank Limited" to Tribhuvan University Faculty of Management, for the partial fulfillment of the requirement for the Master of Business Studies (MBS) at Shanker Dev Campus.

A single attempt is not enough to completion of any research study this thesis too would not have been possible without the encouragement and guidance of number of people to whom I would like to express my appreciation. I owe a deep sense of heartiest gratitude and sincerity to my advisor lecturer Rita Maskey for her valuable supervision, guidelines and co operations. I shall indebted to whom for continuous guidance, valuable direction; useful suggestions, comments and inspiration at all time have been of immense value without which this work would not have been accomplished.

I would like to extend my gratitude to head of the finance and accounts departments of BOK and EBL for providing all materials and necessary information when and wherever required. A Sincere thanks also goes to library staff of Shanker Dev Campus.

Last! But not least, I would like to mention my respectable mother Mrs. Geeta Shrestha. I am beholden for her blessings, encouragement, assistance, love and patience. My special and warm thankfulness goes to my colleagues Kabindra Kasaju, Jayanti, Prakash, Dipendra and other friends of Shanker Dev Campus.

Finally, it was a pleasant feeling of accomplishing the thesis report with a novel experience. It will be my pleasure and I shall consider it my success if this report could be of any help to anybody concerned.
