ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

For a developing country like Nepal where about 31% of people live below the absolute poverty line, Micro-Finance can play a vital role in minimizing poverty. There are number of various types of institutions which provide microfinance services to the poorest of the poor. In this background, an attempt has been made in this thesis to look into the performance of Rural Microfinance Development Centre (RMDC) - a wholesale microfinance institution. During the preparation of this thesis, I have been helped by number of people whose assistance and guidance have made this research work possible.

It gives me immense pleasure to acknowledge my deep sense of gratitude that I owe to my thesis supervisor Ms. Snehalata Kafle for her valuable guidance and advice in the preparation of this thesis. I am also grateful to Ms. Indira Rijal for her help and guidance in the initial stage of this thesis.

I would like to record my sincere appreciation and gratitude towards officials of RMDC, and NRB who have kindly helped me by providing various facts, figures, data, reports and other vital information.

I am also very thankful and grateful towards my beloved Family, especially to my father and brother for their continuous support, encouragement, and valuable suggestions for the completion of this thesis as well as the MBS program. I also wish to thank my seniors and colleagues of Ace Development Bank, and authorities of Shankar Dev Campus for their generosity and co-operation.

Last but not least, I would like to express my sincere thanks to all my friends and well-wishers for their immense support and best wishes throughout the study.
