ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This study entitled "Fertility Behaviour in Bhul community: A Case Study of Gokuleshwor VDC Darchula" is undertaken as requirements for the partial fulfillment of Master of Arts in population studies.

I got much help and encouragement from many people in completing this work but as it is not possible to mention all by name, I wish to express my special gratitude to the following individuals.

First of all, I would like to express my deep gratitude to my supervisor Dr. Puspa Lal Joshi, Visiting Prof. Central Department of Population Studies; under whose supervision, theoretical and intellectual guidance, I completed this dissertation. Similarly, I would like to convey my heart felt thanks to Prof. Dr. Bal Kumar K.C. Head of Central Department of Population Studies.

I will be falling in my duty, if I forget to mention the friendly and co-operative villagers of Gokeleshor VDC Darchula. Finally, my utmost sense of gratitude and indebtedness go to my friends, Mr Ramesh Joshi for providing valuable suggestions and respected my family members (father, mother, and brother), who provided various documents and who are spared their precious time and took pains to help me in my work besides providing valuable suggestions and ideas. And, of course, all the shortcomings in this study are mine alone.
