ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This paper is the outcome of my research, concluding my Master's Degree in Business studies at Shanker Dev Campus, Putalisadak, and Kathmandu. Throughout the course I have enjoyed the help of many, both in the campus and outside. I am especially indebted to my respected teacher Dr. Shilu Bajracharya for her able guidance and continuous supervision to undertake and complete this study. I cannot fully express how grateful I am towards them.

Mr. Rewat Bahadur Karki, General Manager of NEPSE has been very kind enough to me in terms of freely sharing his wise ideas and constantly helping me throughout every phase of the study.

Furthermore, I would like to thank all the staffs of NEPSE and SEBON for their cooperation and help in providing the valuable data useful in preparing this report.
