

Tribhuvan University

Hyphenated Identity in Jhumpa Lahiri's Interpreter of Maladies

A thesis submitted to the Department of English, Ratna Rajya Laxmi Campus

In partial fulfillment of requirement for the Degree of

Master of Arts in English

By

Ajaya Kumar Khatri Chhetri

Department of English

Ratna Rajya Laxmi Campus

Kathmandu

June 2008

Tribhuvan University

Hyphenated Identity in Jhumpa Lahiri's Interpreter of Maladies

A thesis submitted to the Department of English, Ratna Rajya Laxmi Campus

In partial fulfillment of requirement for the Degree of

Master of Arts in English

By

Ajaya Kumar Khatri Chhetri

Department of English

Ratna Rajya Laxmi Campus

Kathmandu

June 2008

Tribhuvan University

Faculties of Humanities and Social Sciences

This thesis entitled “Hyphenated Identity in Jhumpa Lahiri’s Interpreter of Maladies” is submitted to the Department of English, Ratna Rajya Laxmi Campus, by Ajaya Kumar Khatri Chhetri has been approved by the members of Research Committee.

Research Committee

Advisors

Internal Examiner

External Examiner

Dr. Anand Sharma

Head

Department of English

Date: _____

Contents

Acknowledgements

Page

Chapter One

Introduction

1

Hyphenated Identity

Chapter Two

Cultural Identity and Migration

12

Chapter Three

Interpretation of Diaspora: Semi-real Exilic Predicament

30

Chapter Four

Conclusion

50

Works Cited

Acknowledgements

This thesis is the concentrated product of two years of study and discussions. I owe a lot to my supervisor Dr. Anand Sharma, the head of the department of English, who has provided me a creative environment since the conceptual outline of proposal. My interest in postcolonial studies got its first push through so many ideas and discussions with respectable teacher Mr. Rishikesh Upadhaya, and then led by the inspiring teacher Mr. Srijon Chhetri who also did the penultimate revision to this research work. My thanks, as well, to my friends Rameshwor Acharya, Achut Dhungana, Paras Acharya, Ishwori Bhatta who have been helpful discussants in my work.

I am indebted to my dearest grandma, dad, mama and maiju, my sisters Archana, Shilpa and Sushmita and also to my younger brother Santosh who did a continual support to do my hard work. And finally, I am grateful to my late mom who would forever be the source of inspiration to me.

Ajaya Kumar Khati Chhetri

June 2008